LORD SELBORNE'S PLAN.

British Admiralty Issues a Circular Detailing the Organization of Reserve Warships.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) LONDON, Dec. 11.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Admiralty has issued a circular to all naval commissioners, explaining Lord Selborne's scheme, which becomes effective January 1, and detailing the organization of warships of the reserve. Each ship on the war list not in commission at sea will be kept commissioned in the reserve, and have a nucleus crew comprising the important officers and two-fifths of the war crew, including all experts in torpedo and gunnery ratings. The reserve ships will be distributed between three home ports, and provision will be made for surplus crews in barracks to enable six battleships or first-class cruisers to be fully commissioned on emergency, without displacing the general mobilization of the navy.

ADMIRAL SEYMOUR.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) LONDON, Dec. 11.—King Edward has approved the appointment of Admiral Sir Edward Seymour, G.C.B., to command of the fleet on the retirement of Admiral Salmon in February. Vice-Admiral Anthony Hamilton, in command, Prince Louis of Battenberg will become commander of the second cruiser squadron.

TURN SEARCHLIGHTS ON ADVANCING JAPS.

Russians are Enabled Thereby to Repel Heavy Attack at Mukden.

Principal Object of the Siege of Port Arthur Accomplished in Destruction of the Czar's Warships and the Hostilities Enter on a New Stage—Peking Hears of a Muscovite Retreat on the Hun River.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

MUKDEN, Dec. 11.—(By Asiatic Cable.) The Japanese opened a heavy fire on the Russian position at 4 o'clock this morning, but the Russians had searchlights in readiness, and for the first time used them. These army lights proved very effective, and a deadly rifle and artillery fire being concentrated upon the Japanese advance, they were driven back with heavy loss.

RUSSIAN CRUISER SIGHTED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) BREAST, Dec. 11.—A Russian cruiser has been sighted passing Ushant, going in a northwesterly direction. It is reported that the vessel is returning to Russia.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) It is admitted in St. Petersburg itself that Japan has accomplished the principal object of the siege of Port Arthur in the destruction of the remainder of the Russian fleet, and the new stage on which the war now enters, is being discussed with the keenest interest throughout Europe.

It is taken for granted that Russia must make a radical decision as to the policy of a sea campaign within a few days. She will either abandon the mission of the present Baltic fleet, or defy the Treaty of Portsmouth and send the Black Sea fleet through the Dardanelles to reinforce Admiral Rojestvensky.

It has become abundantly evident from the discussion in the Russian press for the past ten days in regard to the Black Sea fleet that Russia is preparing for its departure. The situation is extremely difficult for the Russian government. At present, the Black Sea fleet being in the Mediterranean, no amount of verbal protest then would avail anything. Japan, however, will demand decisive action by her ally; in fact, he is assumed that Japan has already made this demand, in anticipation of Russia's action.

The Japanese government is indeed warmly incensed at the failure of the British authorities to prevent wholesale supply of coal, arms and ammunition to Russia from Japanese sources. It is denied that strong protests have been made by Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister here, but such is the fact. If Great Britain should permit the Black Sea fleet to join Admiral Rojestvensky, the diplomatic consequences would likely be of grave importance.

DESTROYERS AND SEVASTOPOL.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) LONDON, Dec. 12.—(By Atlantic Cable.) An unofficial report from Port Arthur, according to the Tokio dispatch to the Daily Mail, says the Japanese torpedo-boat destroyers attacked the Russian battleship Sevastopol at the mouth of the harbor, the

MANIAC RIOTS IN A CHURCH.

In Red Undershirt, With Bare Ax, a Grand Rapids Man Breaks Loose.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) Dec. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A maniac, clad in a red undershirt and swinging an ax, strode down the aisle of the crowded Fifth Reformed Church early this morning, smashed pews and chandeliers and drove worshippers in a panic from the sanctuary. A riot call was sent to the police station and several officers arrived just as the maniac was beginning to attack the big pipe organ.

Seeing the officers approaching, the maniac jumped upon the instrument, still swinging the ax. Then Policeman Slater was caught by the frenzied man and had his thumb severely bitten. Another policeman was knocked unconscious with the ax, sustaining a gash six inches long in his head. Shots were fired to frighten the delirious man, and one took effect in his eye. He was then overcome and taken to jail, where he tore the padding off the cell to bits, and was placed under the influence of chloroform. While in delirium he had escaped from a sanatorium, he was later discovered.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

PARIS, Dec. 11.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Philippe Bunau-Varilla, who, before being Minister of Panama to Washington was the principal engineer of the Panama canal, gives an authorized interview relative to the building of the canal at sea level. According to M. Bunau-Varilla the construction of the canal at sea level is not only possible, but it must ultimately be so constructed, as are other connections between oceans, like the Straits of Bosphorus between the Black Sea and the Aegean Sea. Asked if the Panama canal ought to be constructed at once at sea level, M. Bunau-Varilla replied:

"Not at all. To be at perfect sea level, the canal must be free from any artificial work; and there is perhaps no engineer who would be willing to accept the responsibility of building it immediately with dams on the upper Chagres to regulate the floods and without tide locks at Panama to counteract in the canal the currents due to the ten-foot tide from the Pacific. The notion of a free discharge from the Chagres in a lockless sea-level canal must result from experience which would be acquired by working a lock canal with a central lake, such as that I devised in 1892, and which was adopted by the Isthmian Canal Commission in 1901. The construction of such a canal would give experimental data about the necessary cross section of the canal for locking a sea-level passage and construction of the locks."

"As to changing from the lock to the sea-level form, I gave in 1892 a solution which I communicated recently to Admiral Walker. It is an easy, practical and cheap method of gradually transforming the lock canal into a sea-level canal without stopping navigation for six months. It utilizes for the sea-level canal all the work done for the lock canal, except, naturally, dams and locks. This solution entirely protects the future."

"In one word, I think it would be a great error to begin with the sea-level plan at once. It would cost $100,000,000 more and require twice as much time. The lock plan will be amply sufficient until the traffic reaches 40,000,000 tons—that is to say, seven times the probable traffic in the first year's operation—and will lead by experimental and secure ways to an ideal solution of a sea-level passage."

POSTAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) PANAMA, Dec. 11.—Arrangements between Panama and the canal zone postal authorities have been made, as specified in Secretary Taft's executive orders.

CANONIZES THE BLESSED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) ROME, Dec. 11.—In the presence of 60,000 people assembled in St. Peter's, Pope Pius X this morning canonized Blessed Agostino, a saint and Blessed Gerardo Maiella, descendants of whom, including Marquises Ambrosio, Sauli and Negroto, assisted in the canonization ceremony. The canonization ceremony was the only second time that it has been held since 1870. The basilica was beautiful with electric lights, its immensity height showing the illuminations to perfection.

"FIGHT IS STILL ON,"
SAYS TOM LAWSON.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

BOSTON (Mass.) Dec. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Thomas W. Lawson, in an interview today, declared that he had not settled with Henry H. Rogers in the fight against the Standard Oil and "the system," and has not seen Rogers, although the latter was in Boston during the height of the Amalgamated raid. He also declares that he did not sell a share of Amalgamated stock from Tuesday morning to Friday, and offered to pay $1,000,000 to charity if it can be proven, either that he sold any Amalgamated stock in that time or has settled with Rogers.

Replying to the conspiracy charges, made last night, Lawson says: "I spoke my piece on Amalgamated fairly and squarely in 'the open.' I caught the 'Standard Oil crowd' loaded. I caught the plungers and bulls loaded. The selling was by the people, who got good prices. The fight is still on."

ON COMMERCE AND LABOR.

Secretary Metcalf Issues an Interesting Report.

Work of Corporation Bureau Has Been Exhaustive.

Anti-trust Laws Compiled. Statistics on Living.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—In the annual report to the President from the Department of Commerce and Labor, Secretary Victor H. Metcalf, who succeeded Secretary Clegg, states that the department during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, were $10,381,575. The organization of the department has been conducted along lines in harmony with the appropriations authorized by Congress for the current fiscal year. In some instances the work has been hampered by lack of an adequate staff of employees, and it is hoped that Congress will remove this difficulty. Secretary Metcalf says:

"In the estimates I have included a provision for an appropriation to be expended under the immediate direction of the Secretary for the investigation of trade conditions at home and abroad, with the object of promoting the domestic and foreign commerce of the United States and for other purposes. A similar request, made in the first annual report, was denied by Congress, but the result of the year's work conclusively demonstrated that the main investigations contemplated will be of great value to the commercial interests of the United States and that the growth of our foreign trade can be materially and immediately helped by sending skilled and trained men to study in foreign countries under special conditions in the great world markets."

"In addition to the main purpose the appropriation is needed also for other purposes. It is of the utmost importance that a fund be available for the expenditure under the immediate direction of the Secretary for the employment of special agents for the inspection and examination of the services of the department. On account of the limitations which the law very properly imposes with reference to the expenditure of funds, it is impossible, without such a fund, to promptly meet such emergencies as frequently arise."

"Money appropriated for contingent expenses, or for a special or general purpose, cannot be used for official or clerical compensation, and executive officers are prohibited from receiving help beyond provision made by law. Usually the annual appropriations are barely sufficient to enable the bureau and offices to dispose of routine work, and provision is seldom, if ever, made for emergency work. The situation which arose in connection with the Gen. Alcorn disaster is in point. In that instance the department had no funds which could lawfully be used to provide either for a suspension of the passenger steamer in the port of New York or for a general investigation of the capital of the state. Yet, both the inspection and the investigation were necessary."

"If an informed that for years a 'division of special agents' has been maintained in the Treasury Department. These special agents are available for detail on any subject of investigation or inspection connected with the department. In the past they have been detailed to report on the work of the branches of the public service outside of the department of Columbia. Of the 700 employees of the Department of Commerce and Labor outside of the department of Columbia, 214 are connected with bureaus and offices formerly under the jurisdiction of the Treasury Department. In order to continue the efficiency of these services, it is imperative that provision be made for special investigations and inspections, either as herein recommended or as maintained while the branches of the service referred to were part of the Treasury Department."

November 15, 1924, there were in the department 223 regular positions. Of these 183 were specifically authorized by law, and 798 were provided for under general appropriations that do not create specific positions."

BUREAU OF MANUFACTURES.

The Bureau of Manufactures, authorized under the general act, was not organized during the fiscal year covered by this report, because of the inefficiency of the appropriations.

BUREAU OF CORPORATIONS.

The work of the Bureau of Corporations has proceeded along the lines indicated in the first annual report of the department. The bureau has made exhaustive examination of judicial decisions for the purpose of ascertaining the true constitutional powers and restrictions on which present conditions are based, and also those which may be necessarily involved in any future legislation for the improvement of present legal corporate conditions."

For the purpose of ascertaining and presenting in available form the legal conditions under which corporate business is being carried on in the various States, representative of the thirty States has been compiled and tabulated. In each of these States, with regard to all the more important corporations organized in the State and engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, typical of the State's industries or of its laws, every paper or document filed or recorded concerning such corporation was examined separately, and all information relating to each corporation disclosed by the official records has been collected and compiled. There have been thus far examined and abstracted the records of over fifteen hundred corporations, which include the larger part of the more important industrial and commercial corporations, joint-stock companies and corporate combinations in the United States."

At the same time there has been collected the fullest possible information concerning the various systems of corporate taxation in use; wherever possible, there have been obtained statements, reports, or returns of the more important corporations, and, in addition, there has been obtained a complete list of the foreign corporations admitted to do business in the particular State, this record showing the name, capital stock, and home State of each corporation. This record furnishes a convenient view to corporations engaged in interstate commerce. The material now collected from twenty-five States on this subject is as follows:

First—Abstracts of records of specific domestic corporations.

Second—Abstracts of the records of specific foreign corporations.

Third—List of foreign corporations admitted to the State to do business.

Fourth—Official forms of all corporate documents required or permitted to be filed.

Fifth—Transcripts of all records or returns used in connection with corporate taxation, taken from typical originals.

There is now ready for publication a compilation of the Federal and State statutes dealing with illegal industrial combinations, now so-called anti-trust laws. This will afford complete information of such laws, showing in tabular and condensed form, so as to be readily available and easily compared, their provisions, including the definitions thereunder and request and discussion of cases involving the common principles as to combinations in restraint of trade.

The compilation on a uniform outline of insurance laws has been undertaken and completed in ten States. The bureau has been in communication with the insurance officials of all the States, and its agents have conferred with representatives of a large number of insurance companies, officers of boards of underwriters, and insurance agents, for the purpose of obtaining the best information possible upon both the legal and the business side of insurance.

Federal control or regulation of insurance raises at the outset the question whether insurance in any of its forms is interstate commerce. The decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States have established the legal proposition that fire, life, and marine insurance, in the forms presented to the Commission in its report, are interstate commerce, and the present business methods suggest that under existing conditions insurance companies may be subjected to Federal regulation through interstate commerce by Congress. The whole question is receiving the most careful consideration upon both legal and economic grounds.

For the purpose of laying the foundation upon which direct investigations of special corporations can be intelligently conducted, the bureau has compiled, from sources other than the corporations themselves, all available information regarding certain leading combinations. From a careful analysis of this material it has been possible to form preliminary judgments regarding the economic and financial practices and effects of combinations in general, and to make a preliminary investigation of the special inquiry. On the basis of this general study preliminary outlines of inquiries to be addressed directly to the companies are being prepared. The results of the investigation of inquiries authorized by resolution of Congress, will be made the subject of a special report.

collection of data relative to strikes and lockouts in the United States, which will form the basis of the annual report for 1924. The sixteenth annual report, published in 1921, brought the facts relating to strikes and lockouts down to and including the year 1920. It is expected that the report for 1924 will cover the period from 1921 to 1924. In addition to work on the annual reports of the bureau, a portion of its force has been engaged, pursuant to resolution of the Committee on Labor of the House of Representatives, in the collection of data which will form the basis of a report upon the bill (H. R. 4661) now pending in the House of Representatives entitled "A bill limiting the hours of daily service of laborers and mechanics employed upon work done for the United States or for any Territory or for the District of Columbia, and for other purposes."

SPECIAL REPORTS.
The special reports in progress comprise inquiries concerning wealth, debt and taxation, including statistics of municipal finance; defective, dependent and delinquent classes; annual mortality; blind, deaf, and dumb; social and industrial conditions in cities; electrical industries, and cotton statistics. Preparation has been made for the manufacturing census of 1925. The work of the various branches and the general operations of the department are further reviewed at length, and the Secretary says signal success has been achieved in the administration of the Chinese exclusion laws during the year. This is especially true in relation to the enforcement of the law against the transportation of Chinese laborers into the hands of the United States. The Chinese exclusion laws have been brought by them through Canada to the United States, and if reflected they are returned to China at the expense of the companies.

BELIEVE HE IS THE ROBBER.

POLICEMEN SAY THEY HAVE THE STREET CAR HOLD-UP.

Arrest Made Early This Morning Near the End of the Pico Street Line Which May or May Not Prove to Be Important—Carmen Are Very Nervous.

In the arrest of a man near the end of the Pico street car line at 2:30 o'clock this morning, Patrolmen Patis and Neighbors believe they have the man who late Saturday night held up Conductor Brown of the Los Angeles Railway Company and robbed him of $25.15. Anticipating another attempt to hold up a car in that part of the city, the police were unusually vigilant last night and were prepared to protect the carmen at the end of the street car line.

Shortly before midnight carmen telephoned to the Police Station that two men had been seen lurking around the end of the Pico street car line. When the hold-up of the night previous took place, Sergeant Craig immediately sent out Patrolmen Patis and Neighbors with instructions to search the vicinity of the city thoroughly for suspicious-looking characters.

While the officers were on route on a car, a car in the track near Western avenue caused the big headline to sweep the country near the end of the line for a considerable distance, and the two men seen to be running away from the track. They disappeared to the hollow opposite the Country Club links before the car reached the terminus. The officers made an extended search but failed to find the men at that time.

Then the officers began a thorough search of the country near the grounds of the Country Club, and at 1:30 o'clock this morning at the Stansbury grading camp they arrested a man who gave the name of Theodore Pettay, a name believed to be assumed. The prisoner answers fully the description which Conductor Brown gave of the man who robbed him. It was learned that the man had been in the city for some time and was not in his bunk at the camp and that he arrived there a short time after. He denies all knowledge of the robbery, but has not explained his movements to the satisfaction of the officers. He was locked up and will be held until Brown can see him. Brown stated immediately after the robbery that he would be able to identify the robber.

BODY FOUND IN RESERVOIR
Sitting down under the willow trees near the edge of irrigating reservoir No. 6, just north of Eastlake Park, a body was found floating in the water. The body was found by a man who rolled up his coat sleeves, opened a large pocket knife and slashed both his wrists. Not content with seeing the body, he jumped to his feet, ran to the edge of the lake and plunged in. The body was found floating in the water. ## CANNOT KEEP UP THE PACE.

"Rich Fellow" are Too Fast for I. W. Hellman.

San Francisco Banker Tells of Recent Deal.

Why He Sold Out of Pacific Electric Company.

I. W. Hellman arrived at the Van Nuys last night from San Francisco on what he terms one of his periodical business trips. "There has been some talk in the papers about the relations existing between Mr. Huntington and myself," he said in an interview with a Times reporter. "I wish to state that our personal relations have at all times been most congenial. We are good friends, and will always remain such. There were some differences in our ideas about the expansion of electric roads, but they related only to business policies."

Never objected to any developments Mr. Huntington made in Los Angeles county, but when I found that his plans were so extensive and he was going to spread out so far—not being the United States, but just a banker—I saw that I could not follow his pace, and I therefore offered to sell. I did not believe that I would be able to sell, a banker, to put any more money into schemes to build such long lines. However, I feel sure that Mr. Huntington will succeed, though it may be a long time before some of his propositions will pay."

Regarding the personality of the board of directors of the Pacific Electric, Hellman said: "As some of these gentlemen have been in the matter and refuse to disclose the identity of the board, I do not feel that it is my place to give their names. I cannot see why it is kept secret, for as Mr. Huntington and Mr. Harriman are not members of the board of directors, they must be shareholders. You may say, however, that I refused to be a director of the Pacific Electric on account of too much business along other lines. I controlled enough stock to be elected a director if I chose. I am still a shareholder in the company, and the Los Angeles Interurban, and the Los Angeles Railway companies, and still have large holdings in the latter company, which is a big paying proposition."

Hellman said that he received cash and securities for his stock in the Pacific Electric, but was not able to state what the amount was. He is deeply interested in his new six-story building now being built in the city around his handsome bank building at the corner of Fourth and Main streets. "I am not a speculator," he said, "I am strictly an investor, and I have all my life paid for things as I go along. I have seen a lot of men who state what the amount was. ## The Masquerader

"Hurry, hasten, hie! Don't waste a moment. Put on your hat or overcoat and run to the nearest store for a copy of The Magnificent Ambersons!"

The most interesting novel of the season and it will be a long time before we get its equal. It is legitimately interesting, too. The plot thrills and the people grip. You get wrapped up in the main and side stories as if you were being carried along by a great force when the conclusion comes.

The Truants

By A. E. W. Mason, popularly known as the author of "The Good Fathers," not only introduces the strange phases of modern London life, but speedily involves him in a plot of engrossing interest which centers around a man who must make choices between military honor and the good

A Ladder of Swords

This is the first novel Sir Gilbert Parker has written since his great book "The Right of Way." A sweet and pleasing love story, original in conception, blithe in spirit, with enough

The Son of Royal Langbrith

This is not one of the strongest, but is the strongest story William Dean Howells has written. It is new novels as written. It is certain to be the most popular. "A perfect piece of fiction," declare the Brooklyn Eagle, "has a plot that grips the reader. It is a novel to be read at a sitting; there is no stopping-place in the action."

The Lady of Loyalty House

book prisoner a young officer in Cromwell's army, and then a romance developed, with all sorts of amusing and exciting episodes. Justin Huntly McCarthy, who wrote "The Proud Prince," has told a captivating story in this new book.

The Georgians

Old "Abner Daniel" is being royally

Welcomed by the thousands who got acquainted with him in Will N. Harben's former book—"Abner Daniel. He is eccentric, quaint, and real, a character one remembers like an old friend and never grows tired of.

Vergilius

Over one hundred distinguished scholars and clergymen have written praise of this "Tale of the Coming of Christ." It is a new departure from the tales of rural life in which Irving Bacheller scored such successes as "Eben Holden" and "D'ri and L."

the paucity of the "Central Park," on a hill and its return to agriculture. The morning the swarthy will make a concerted effort to take their axes, and before the day is over these grand old trees will be gone, which for three quarters of a century have spread their aerial canopy over the entire expanse of the California skies, and afforded shade upon the playground and resting place of the people. I bowed themselves to make way, firmness, for my photograph, for my man. The photograph shows a magnificent avenue of trees, marked for the axe. The fall a sacrifice to the modern street, which demands a modern street, and satisfied with nothing straight line of the sidewalk, graveled narrow streets of glaring trees.
